Dearest Helen -

I'm going to write on the first page possible.
I hope you don't mind. Well today is the last day for me. Am I ever sorry, but it can't be helped.
You sure have helped to make this year the happiest one of my school life. You must forget to come on a lot this summer. Graduation doesn't mean that our friendship must end. You must never forget the thrills, heartaches, and the L.O.V.E. that I got from Shippy and Mickey will you?

Remember me always as your true pal and that's the way I'll remember you.

Here is a ~~new~~ verse:

Life is like a pathway
of freshly fallen snow
Be careful how you tread it -
For every mark will show.

Just some advice. I hope to see you this summer and also next year if I can come back. You hope for me won't you??? Don't forget those pals of mine. Loads of success, luck, and happiness.

Love from your pal -

Phyllis R. Murray

DEDICATION

What I have done — what I have known
Back to the unremembered and unknown,

And this frail Thou — this flame of yesterday —
Burn on, forlorn, immortal, and alone?

—Lucretius (No Single Thing Abides)

Awake, O Muse, awake from thy sweet dreams in sleep,
And wakening instill in me the beauty of thy thoughts to sweep
The strings of some famed harp of gold and sing of one
Whose thoughts, whose deeds, whose aim in life have come
To be reflected in a wondrous face that has the power to bring
From multitudes a high respect and love. Awake, O Muse, and let me sing.
Not a rolling song, O Muse, whose majestic chords will beat upon the ears
As the rumbling ocean surf pounds the ancient rocks and breaks them through the years;
But let it be a humble song, about the simpler things of life:
The flowers, the birds, a mother's love, a deep-born faith in God, the strife
That one must wage to win contentment and these simple things.
Give, O Muse, a song refreshing as the breeze of a summer night that brings
The dew to bathe the budding rose and opens it full-blown with the dawn;
For such is she of whom I sing: more refreshing than the breeze that wanders on,
Sweeter than the rose. Happiness is hers, with friends and work and birds and flowers;
Ah Muse, awake, awake! Thy sleep must hold till later hours!
Care has worn that face, O Muse, and tinges those locks with silver; tears
Have been shed and anguish known be that sweet face. Care and years
Have taken toll. But she has lived, O Muse, yes she has lived and found
The greatest depths and heights that human life can sound.

From afar the night wind brings a verse of honor: tender, loving, flowing free
From the heart of a youthful multitude, " . . . Hail, all hail to thee!" *

ELIZABETH A. WATERS

A TRIBUTE

Something of the finest was taken from each one
When on March thurd we realized that Miss Waters was gone:—
Nobility of character, beauty of soul
Were qualities she had from which time took no toll.
Thousands whose lives are better and richer today
Are testimony that Miss Waters passed their way;
Her deeds cannot be found in material monuments,
But they will be seen embedded in the hearts of her students,
Encouraging all with a kindly word or two;
Through dark clouds she made them see the sun shining through.
To those in trouble she was a spiritual guide,
Inspiring all souls who did in her confide.
Higher essentials than subject matter she sought—
Spiritual things and human values she taught;
Gentleness of spirit, a fine sense of loveliness
Heightened the personality she did possess.
Leader in our high school and leader in our state,
Active in societies too numerous to relate,
In every little thing she strove so hard to do;
She did a great deal more good than she ever knew;
In our memories of one who was so very dear
We can see a heart understanding and sincere,
For so valuable a life is a great human debt.
Those fine things she did no one will e'er forget.
She passed her life not in taking but in giving;
She was a grand master of the art of living.

— Jean Tack, '33

I have been thinking of you very much lately and wondering how you are getting on.
 I hope you are well and happy.
 I have been very busy lately
 but I will write to you again soon.
 I love you very much.
 Your affectionate mother, Mrs. J. H. H.

HISTORY OF THE MID-YEAR CLASS OF 1933

President	John Gorn
Vice-President	Earl Joseph
Secretary	Andree Krueger
Treasurer	Ray Green

When the mid-year class of 1933 entered Fond du Lac Senior High School, in February, 1930, little excitement was created; Fond du Lac was leading the Fox River Valley basketball race and such an obscure thing as our entrance of a group of boys and girls to the high school could not be noticed. There seemed very little that a group of sophomores could do to distinguish themselves in one semester.

However, in the fall of 1930, the mid-year class of 1933 began to make itself known. Robert Menge and Ray Ohlrich won letters in football while Ray Ricklefs saw action as a reserve in basketball. The class was headed by George Rottman. The mid-year class placed fourteen members on the honor roll with John Eppler and Ray Green outstanding. The band contained numerous sophomores as did such other activities as the Classical Club, Girls' Glee Club, Life, Peptimist, and Modern Language Club.

Steve Gavin served in the capacity as President of the Junior Class in our second full year in high school. The bright final year predictions were made as the class luminaries came to the fore. Four fellows won letters in football and one in basketball. Andree Krueger was elected vice-president of the French Club. The debate squad was aided by the diligence shown by Julius Kohler, Margaret Schmidley, Ray Green, and John Gorn. Elizabeth Regan, Fond du Lac's own soprano, was elected vice-president of the Girl's Glee Club. John Eppler, Edgar Wright, Gordon Smith, Dick Silah, Greydon Dille, Arthur Raenber, and Woodrow Sizer were active in the band. John Gorn was elected head of the Science Club. Geraldine Meyers and Dorothy Trummer gained their laurels in dramatics, and Max Gulig and Jane Engel helped the Life along. The close of school in June brought the end of a very successful junior year.

The final year in high school began with John Gorn being elected class president; Earl Joseph, vice-president; Andree Krueger, secretary; and the scholarly Ray Green, treasurer. Bob Menge and Ray Ohlrich each received his third letter in football; others who received letters were Ray Ricklefs, James Heaney, Fred Lett, and Charles Shank. Ray Ricklefs also received his second letter in basketball. The race for scholarship honors was finally won by John Eppler by a margin of .2 point over Ray Green; each had an average of more than 95 for his three years in high school. Ray Green, John Gorn, and Julius Kohler received "F's" for their work in forensics.

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

Friends, we, the mid-year graduating class of 1933, welcome you to our commencement exercises. To most of us graduation means getting out in the world; and after we have been out in the world, we like to grade ourselves by how successful we have been.

Perhaps, success is too wide a subject to discuss here; nevertheless, every class would like to leave high school with something to work for in the future. And after all, why cannot this something be success?

Everyone has his ideas on obtaining success, but generally success can be laid to five things: Work, honesty, education, ambition, and health.

Anyone who wants to get ahead must be willing to work, and by work I mean working hard and not loafing. It is not enough to be a "lucky" person; one must be lucky; yet anyone who has good luck has worked for it. Luck is really seizing the opportunity that presents itself. The basic habits of work have been laid in high school. Work is half willing and half doing; but willing and doing must always go together, for as James J. Hill, the great railroad magnate, said, "You cannot build a reputation on things you are going to do."

Honesty always has been and always will be one of the standards of the ages. No man has ever failed because he was honest; anyone who is dishonest is playing a losing game. Consciousness of honesty brings serenity to the mind and is itself success. No one has been or ever will be able to disprove the fact that "honesty is the best policy".

There are any number of ways of gaining an education, yet all are closely related. Education does not merely mean learning in school but learning in life with the world as the school. For a person striving for success, education never ends; "the wise man is the man who knows he has much to learn," for as Dickens says, "Every failure will teach a man something if he is willing to learn." And the wise man is the successful man.

Ambition — a football team desires to win its games; the team that knows what it is doing and what it is working for succeeds, so do men. The aimless man never reaches his goal, the directed man does. Ambition must be tempered by patience. A famous English poet once said that the man who adds bit by bit gains more than he who tries to get everything at once.

Ralph Waldo Emerson's statement, "The first wealth is health," only serves to bring out more the importance of this fifth pillar of success. To do his best, one must have his body in the best of condition so it will function equally with his brain. No one can sacrifice health without impairing his chance for success.

Perhaps there are other and better rules for success than these; however, any rules of success, whatever they may be, hinge upon one little word — you. "No one," says Emerson, "can cheat you out of ultimate success but yourself." After all success is not what we learn or what we possess, but the use we make of it.

Fellow Classmates, each one must decide his own rules for success, but in deciding we might bear in mind the words of Benjamin Franklin:

"God helps them that help themselves.
Good, better, best, never let us rest
Till your good is better and your "better" best."

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

"To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield" — this motto shows the outstanding ambition and perseverance of the 1933 Class of Fond du Lac Senior High School.

Our class has shown remarkable loyalty to the faculty, to fellow students, and to the interests of Fond du Lac High School — interests both curricular and extra-curricular. Athletics, forensics, dramatics, journalism, and music fill the extra-curricular program.

In athletics, senior participation has been very high. In football, under the supervision of Mr. Baker, Gores, Dana, Farrey, Kuehn, Jaber, and O'Connor have shown their remarkable abilities. In basketball, Mr. Fruth has developed Gores and Siebauer into great lettermen. In baseball, Schiller, Gores, Farrey, and O'Connor have demonstrated their skill. The athletic teams have been ably supported by our lusty cheerleaders, Margaret McCormick, Richard Buckley and Max Unzicker.

In forensics, Miss Johnson has found unusual debate material in Margaret Smith and Edwin Jones.

In dramatics, the seniors, under the directorship of Miss Burkhard, have presented one of the best plays ever produced by the school. Margaret Locks, Alden Willis, Audrey L. Lind, Bill Kull, and Max Unzicker starred in The Family Upstairs.

In journalism, the seniors have eagerly assisted Mr. Olson in the editing of the Fondulacian. Marion Mills, Carol Bethke, and Edwin Jones as editors of the publication, have given the student body interesting school news. Steve Gores, Max Unzicker, Jean Tack, and Jane Koll, with the assistance of Miss Teresa V. O'Brien, contributed much to the production of Life.

The band and orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. Schmitz, have been well supported by senior members.

The class has maintained a very high scholastic average with a great percentage of its members on the honor roll consecutively for the three years.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

Maurice West, Jr.	President
Margaret Giedlinski	Vice-President
Nan Ebernau	Treasurer
Jan Pecke	Secretary

The junior class of 1934 is truly most original — not only has it done away with several old traditions, but also has it added many new ideas. Therefore the class cannot be ignored nor overlooked and forgotten. It is the junior class that broke away from the dead old ways, and class spirit, thus yet the junior emblem is on every "Carry-on". For this class the juniors did not have the traditional junior class party. We saved our money!

At the class meeting held in the fall, the capable class advisers, Miss Katharine O'Brien, chairman, and her assistants, Miss Hansen, Miss Tolles, and Mr. Hurst, started the junior year right. At a meeting held after school officers were elected: Maurice West, Margaret Giedlinski, Nan Ebernau, and Jan Pecke.

The Junior Class has made a permanent slash in the engraving of the Senior High School name. The juniors as a group have outstripped the records of all their predecessors. Never before has been assembled a group so illustrious and its accomplishments. And their claims rest without sufficient and worthy proof. Doubtless among these names you will recognize some who have carried on from sophomores in their climb to fame along with many more who have recently moved to the front.

Leading the pageant of junior conquerors are the football men, featuring Guyette, Rittenburg, Martin, Curran, Rice, and Hahn. Following them and bearing the living torch are our disability heroes including Marko, Schmidt, Mitros, West, Bush, and Guyette.

Next in the parade, widely scribbled and universally proclaimed, the usurpers, but more sedate members of the class swing by. In their files we find on the debate squad Grace McClell, Justin Waring, and Joe McNeany. The secretary-treasurer of the French Club is Peggy Giedlinski and the juniors on the Forum staff are Carol Bethke, Margaret Giedlinski, Mary Callahan, Marguerite Daly, Nancy Handgove, Minnie Kato, Carol Clark, Jeanette Jans, Grace Menkejohn, Margaret Thoresen, and Audrey Bechaud.

The junior editors on the Life staff are Ruth Niles and Joe McNeany.

An entirely fitting and much merited motto has been adopted. "Carry-on". Watch for these friends of yours again next year as seniors.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

Our success depends not upon our past but on our future. What the class will do is a factor which makes it prominent and interesting.

We entered this school of learning to be greeted by the old saying, "The little sophomores!" I no longer feel that examination of contempt and even of derision, as we proved to be not quite so small and troublesome as we were thought to be. Though at first our inability to settle down to hard work proved a source of infinite perplexity and exasperation to the teachers, at last we acquired some of the dignity and knowledge of the older students. And sometimes our work even demands praise from our instructors.

With the aid of our advisers, Miss Williams, Miss Nash, Miss Siewere, and Mr. Topex, our Sophomore Class is well represented in all school activities. Many of the sophomores are found on the Peptimist and Life staffs. Some of the members succeeded in getting on the football, basketball and basketball teams and they deserve praise for their efforts and achievements.

We, too, are represented in the Classical Club, Science Club, Dramatic Club, and all other activities to which we are eligible.

We are proud to say that a large percentage obtain high scores on the scholarship roll, also many students partake in band and orchestra activities.

As a class, we have started out successfully on our road to fame. To be successful through the coming years we must have ability, perseverance, determination, and a selective judgment — these qualities we claim in a sufficient degree to place us, by 1935, at the acme of fame.

The purpose of the band is to give a musical training to all those who are interested in music.

Any person who owns a musical instrument or desires to play one may join. Lessons are given free once a week to every member of the band by Mr. Schmitz. Band practice is held on Monday and Wednesday of each week. The band is composed of about seventy members.

The officers act as an advisory board to Mr. Schmitz and Mr. Merriman.

Among the various occasions the band plays for are the following: football and basketball games at home and also a few games away from home, assembly programs, open-air concerts on the school grounds in the fall and spring, and civic parades.

The Senior High Band and the Roosevelt Junior High School Band combined to give a musical program, opened to the public, on April 6, at Roosevelt Auditorium. A trombone solo was given by Marvin Kaiser. We hope to have more such concerts in the future.

The Classical Club was organized in 1912 to create interest in Roman government, customs, and ideals. Under the supervision of Mrs. Ryder and Miss Haentze, the organization has been developed into a Roman Republic. Its members, as Roman citizens, have the opportunity to become officers in the club. All members are placed in certain tribes. The Comitia Tributa, or tribe leaders, are listed.

The governing body consists of consuls, censors, aediles, praetors, tribunes, and questors. The period of campaigning for the offices is filled with interest for both the office seeker and the Roman voter.

The club sponsored two social events during the year. The first, the Saturnalia, was celebrated on December 18. This gala event of old Rome was revived in a Romano-modern play composed by members of the club. The other event, the Bona Dea, held on May 5, displayed talent hitherto unknown. The club with its social and educational advantages tends to promote the individual co-operation of all.

DEBATING

Faculty Adviser: Miss Madalyn Johnson

Each fall all those who are interested in debating are asked to try out. The ones who show ability in debating are eligible for the Debating Club.

All new members were initiated last fall the same way Demosthenes overcame the impediment in his speech. The membership of the club was fifteen.

During the past year, a practice debate was held with Mayville at Fond du Lac, and four conference debates, two with Oshkosh and two with Sheboygan.

The question for the 1932-1933 debate was, Resolved: That at least fifty per cent of state and local revenue should be derived from sources other than tangible property.

John Gorn, Ray Green, and Julius Kohler made up the affirmative team against Sheboygan and lost. Joseph McNeany, Grace Michels, and Justin Winnig, also an affirmative team, debated against Oshkosh and lost. Griffin Jones, Edwin Jones, and Margaret Smith on the negative side debated Oshkosh, winning the debate. The same team debated Sheboygan on the negative side, losing the debate.

This season was Grace Michels' second active year; we will see her again next year. Other members of the Debating Club were the following: Marion Humleker, Joe McIntyre, Claire Salzmänn, Margaret Schmidley, Leo Starkweather, and Ruth Stauffer.

Standing: Smith, Brazier, Rice, Rosenthal, Mills, Koester, Taylor, Goodrick, Shaw, Engel, Schmidley, Frummer, Mitchell, Gilboy

Faculty Advisors: Miss Teresa O'Brien, Miss Katherine O'Brien

President	Leen Schermeister
Vice-President	Mildred Cale
Secretary	Kathryn McIntosh
Treasurer	Iean Tack

De Oratoribus, a girls' forensic society, was formed under the supervision of the Misses Teresa and Katherine O'Brien for the purpose of giving the girls of Fond du Lac High School an opportunity to study and to participate in the different forms of oral expression. As the club membership is limited to fifty, certain qualifications are required of prospective members.

Each year some members of De Oratoribus have won places on the Fond du Lac debate team and others have received roles in the school plays. The organization is also very active in charity work at Christmas time. During the past year, the sophomore, junior, and senior girls have given separate programs to show the individual class talent and to entertain the other classes with novel programs. Two social events are held annually — one in the nature of an informal supper at which the members roast each other in good natured fun. The other social gathering, which is always the last meeting of the year, is a delightful spring tea. Loyalty, whole-hearted interest, and thoughtfulness are the attributes of all De Oratoribus members.

We realize that our Dramatic Club is still quite young; nevertheless, we feel that it has many accomplishments.

The club was originally organized to furnish entertainment, to study the art and make-up of the theatre, and to write and present plays. It has accomplished all of these things and has gone further.

The chief aim of the club this year was to successfully present a number of one-act plays. Two plays, And The Villain Still Pursued Her and Rich Man Poor Man were presented in the school assembly. And The Villain Still Pursued Her was typical of the old drama of the eighteenth century with its dashing hero, the demure heroine, and the pursuing villain. The story is one of a banker whose property mortgage fell into the hand of George Grabburn, who was in love with the farmer's daughter. Complications arise, but the moment is saved by the hero and the detective. Rich Man Poor Man is a one-act farce in which a debutante gives up society for missionary work. Her troubles and love affairs furnish an interesting background for the rest of the cast.

Two other plays were presented. How Not To Write A Play, a one-act comedy, is an author's version of a very incorrect play. Spreading The News, a one-act comedy showed how gossip can enlarge among neighbors in a small village.

The Dramatic Club has had very interesting meetings which have included a number of plays, interpretations, make-up demonstrations, and a puppet show.

As the official news publication of the Fond du Lac Senior High School, the Fondulacian has continued during the year 1932-1933 to present in acceptable journalistic form a portrayal of the various phases of school life: the scholastic, forensic, dramatic, social, athletic, recreational, and the various extra-curricular activities.

The enrichment of school traditions, the maintenance of morale, and the stimulation of a constructive enthusiasm for the various school functions have also been objectives toward which the publication staff has worked.

The more significant developments during the past year have involved: a change in our paper's name, from the rather adolescent "Peptimist" to the more journalistic and dignified "Fondulacian"; a long-awaited enlargement of our paper from three pages to four, made possible by the willingness of the Roosevelt Junior High School to publish its own paper; and, unfortunately, a grater infrequency of publication, due principally to a decline in advertising revenue and periodic lulls in the various activities.

Standings: Giedhinski, Glasow, Romaha, McCormick, Locks, Bassett, Flanders, Ricklefts, Freund, Rusch, Mills, Theisen, Goranson, Longley, Gruenheck, McIntosh,

Nettie Ann Mitchell

From 1930 to 1932 the French and German Clubs were one club called Modern Language Club. This past year the club separated into a French Club headed by Miss Pietrangeli and a German Club under the leadership of Miss Bennewitz.

In order to be eligible for membership in the French Club, a student must have taken French for one semester and have had an average of eighty-five. The membership of the club numbers forty.

The purpose of the club is to study the life, literature, and art of France.

At a mock tea held during the past year Barbara Thompson, a little girl who had lived in France for two years, told the club members, in French, about her school life in France.

The latest thing in the way of French clubs is to have each class constitute a club all by itself. One of Miss Pietrangeli's classes has tried this idea and it has proved very successful.

Standing: Rauber, Colby, Goetzow, Anders, Entringer, Yager, Zimmerman, Seibel

The aim of the German Club, which was organized in 1924 under the leadership of Miss Waters and Miss Fox, is to make members better acquainted with German life, literature, art, and music.

Any German student who is taking second year German and who has an average of 85 or above is eligible to join. At the present time there are twenty-two members.

At the club meetings, which are held every two weeks, programs consisting of plays, readings, songs, and games are presented.

The most outstanding events of this year were the "Weihnachtsfest" and the Matinee.

Standing: Bachman, Karls, Bohlman, Freeschmidt, Regan, Rosch, Steiner, Ihssen, Koloske, Karl Sonn, Faubel, Rauch, Rosenthal, Arndt, Moore.
Sitting: Burger, Hasenfuss, McIssy, Seeley, Schroeder, Kubley, Schmidley, Hughes, Sumner, Wilmann, Secor, Treleven.

Faculty Advisors: First Semester, Miss Odell, Second Semester, Miss Blish

President, First Semester	Elizabeth Regan
President, Second Semester	Rita Ann Schmidley
Secretary	Fleanor Schroeder
Treasurer	Margaret Bohlman
Pianist	John Hughes

This club, with a membership of thirty-five, has for its purpose the creating and stimulating of an interest in the art of singing and a love for music.

The Glee Club sings at Commencement exercises, civic clubs, assembly programs, and radio concerts.

A clever stunt called The Whoozit Family was put on for a pep meeting in assembly during the past year by some of the Glee Club girls. Elizabeth Regan and Esther Holman, two members of the club, have appeared over our local radio station.

A number of social affairs were enjoyed during the year, the last of which was a picnic held this spring.

Miss Odell directed the club for several years, but upon her resignation to take a position in Chicago, Miss Blish took over the work.

The Life staff has been working all year to bring all of the activities of the school into one book.

The seniors have dedicated this year's annual to Mrs. Anne C. Ryder, their beloved Latin teacher. Because Mrs. Ryder is a Latin instructor the theme is based on Virgil's Aeneid.

Steve Gavin has been appointed editor-in-chief by Miss O'Brien and Margaret Smith, assistant editor. Joseph McNeany, Ruth Niles, and John Goetz are the representatives of the junior and the sophomore classes.

The humor staff with Miss Siljan as adviser is composed of Charles Andrews, Jean Tack, Peggy McCoskrie, Janet Lalis, Charles Knueppel and Joseph McIntyre.

Robert Potter, Catherine Treleven, Joan Brenner, Keith Gallimore, Doris Schwebke, and James Gormican under the direction of Miss Prout make up the athletic staff.

The typing work, under the advisership of Miss Wade, was done by Gladys Bartell, Lila Berndt, Leona Brady, Olive Chase, Helen Detert, Dorothy Dilling, and Helen Miller.

The art staff of which Miss Walker was adviser was composed of David Wilke, Dorothy Trummer, Ione Lambert and Jean Tack.

Max Gulig, Janet Reed, Grace Michels, Atta Shuels, and Fern Zitlow were in charge of the snap department under the direction of Miss O'Neil.

The business staff, directed by Mr. Newell consisted of Robert Promen, Mary Callahan, Helen Gehde, Esther Holman, Almira Diedrich, Dorothy Pfeifer, Lucille Krug, John Eppler, and John Holterman.

Miss Lawless, organization adviser, was assisted by Jane Koll, Margaret Schmidley, and Jane Engel.

MORTAR BOARD

Faculty Adviser, Mrs. Roberts

President	Jane Kull
Vice-President	Marie Freund
Secretary	Elaine Goodrick
Treasurer	Jean Tack

The Mortar Board Club, founded in 1922, was organized to promote friendship and cooperation among the girls of the school. Mrs. Roberts patterned this organization after a Milwaukee girls' club with which she had worked. The club with its splendid ideals immediately proved a great success. Now, because of its exceedingly large membership, the club has been limited to junior and senior girls.

The year's programs consist of meetings at which a speaker talks on subjects of interest or the students themselves provide varied entertainment. Social activities include initiation, get-acquainted parties, kids' parties, hard time parties and informal banquets. Mortar Board carries on an extensive charity drive at Christmas and also throughout the entire year silently aids the more unfortunate. Each girl in the organization devotes some time and energy to this cause.

Mortar Board's influence on its members has lately resulted in the formation of an alumnae chapter, which also sponsors many charitable and social activities.

Due to its large membership and its position as a leader, Mortar Board has become one of the most outstanding activities in the school.

ORCHESTRA

Faculty Advisors: Mr. Schmitz, Director, Mr. Merriman, Business Manager

The aim of this musical body is to study classic and popular orchestral music for the benefit of the pupil.

The orchestra comprises approximately forty-five members. The members who play wind instruments receive free instruction from Mr. Schmitz. The violin players receive lessons, for a small fee, in a special class under the supervision of Miss Harriet Carpenter.

The orchestra plays at assembly programs, commencement programs, civic clubs, and the senior class play presented in the Roosevelt Auditorium.

Many of our former orchestra members now play in amateur or professional orchestras, showing how valuable the training was which these members received in the high school orchestra.

The Science Club is one of the oldest students' organization of Fond du Lac High School. The club aims to promote interest in the achievements and methods of science. Under the advisership of Mr. O'Connor, the members enjoy many programs rich in scientific value. Bi-monthly meetings keep the members informed on all modern scientific problems. The lives and contributions of the great scientists are studied. The programs include the different phases of physics, chemistry, and biology. Local speakers have provided the club with interesting lectures.

A restricted membership of sixty gives the club a more actively working group. Each member is called upon to furnish some sort of scientific contribution during the year. One activity of the Science Club which is looked forward to by both members and those outside of the club is the time honored custom of procuring liquid air. The experiments provided by the club help the students in their studies. The Science Club is proud of the fact that many of its old members are making names for themselves in the world of science and engineering.

THE FAMILY VPSTAIRS

The annual senior class play, The Family Upstairs, prented under the direction of Miss Ann Burkhard, was considered one of the best plays ever staged by Fond du Lac High High School. A large audience witnessed the production and were enthusiastic over the play.

The plot concerns the fates of the Hellers, the Family Upstairs, Louise Heller, an elder daughter, is the center of the plot. The family is doing its best to inveigle a husband for Louise. Finally, the heroine brings her hero home, only to have Mrs. Heller out-do herself to impress him and almost spoil the story by "putting on airs".

After she has thereby convinced him of what she least wished, that Louise was really to good for him, the fate of the lovers looks dark until the intervention of the father through quick and sensible thought saves the day by "being natural".

The cast were all excellent without exception. Alden Willis, as the hen-pecked father, gave a splendid interpretation. Margaret Locks, the mother, also played her difficult role very well. All the characters were a credit to their class and school.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

The Boys' Glee Club, an organization which had disappeared from our list of extra-curricular activities, was revived during the early part of the second semester this year under the capable direction of Mr. Pine. The first call for members was met with an enthusiastic response by about thirty boys who began to meet regularly every Tuesday afternoon. Although they were so young they had accumulated a stock of material, the boys showed their ingenuity and genuine interest by making several of the copies of the music themselves.

The first appearance of the club took place before the High School Assembly on Thursday, May 11. The program, which met the approval of the highly interested audience, was as follows:

Pilgrims Chorus (Tannhauser)	Walden
Kentucky Babe	Cochran
Fantasia (Il Trovatore)	Walden
Winter Song	Brunau
The Bells of St. Mary's	Adams
Novelty Selections	Harold Treleven
Trio	Klima, Brunau, Thornton
Trees	Rosbac
The Song of the Vagabonds	Friml

The members who appeared in the program were:

Edward Brunau	Merle Krueger
Claude Buchanan	Calvin Lomblo
Graydon Burland	Cyril McDonald
Carroll Clark	Joseph Morris
Lynn Colburn	Frank O'Connor
Harold Ewald	David O'Rourke
Norman Ewald	Merritt Parker
James Joseph	Robert Smithers

FONDY'S GUIDES

Our venerable football mentor, E. F. Baker, with the close of the "32" season, completed an even active and successful year of coaching. This past year Bake, with the able assistance of Mr. Pine, turned out an excellent squad.

Bake was a lineman on several championship teams at Dubuque College in Iowa. In 1921 he came to Fond du Lac to assist Coach Fruth who was football coach. Under his guiding hand Fondy has successfully maintained her unblemished record of clean, hard-fought football.

The "32" squad was led by the retiring captain, Jake Gores. Jake, the peak of endurance, fought on last season's team. He played through every game with the alertness and energy, well worthy of an All-American. We are extremely sorry to have him leave us, and we wish him the best of everything.

Next season's squad will be led by captain-elect, Bob Guyette. Bob demonstrated his football ability to its highest degree this year. His driving plunges and brilliant defensive work were the spark plugs of Fondy's eleven for this year. He's going to have to go some to beat his own record next season.

THROUGH THE LINE

THE 1932 SEASON

Fond du Lac	vs	Marinette	Won	26 — 0
Fond du Lac	vs	East Green Bay	Won	15 — 7
Fond du Lac	vs	Manitowoc	Won	19 — 0
Fond du Lac	vs	Appleton	Lost	7 — 6
Fond du Lac	vs	West Green Bay	Lost	6 — 0
Fond du Lac	vs	Sheboygan	Lost	6 — 0
Fond du Lac	vs	Oshkosh	Lost	6 — 0

Fondy started the football season with a bang. Marinette was beaten in good style, and for the first time in the ancient and honorable history of the Fond du Lac Senior High School's career in the Fox River Valley Conference, Fondy defeated the "Red Devils" of East Green Bay. Manitowoc was the next victim, with a score of 19 to 0.

ENEMY'S TERRITORY

Back Row: Biland, Kneuppel, Buchanan, Roberts, A. Bond, Lotzer, Tebo, Farrell, Gatzke
Third Row: O'Connor, Gallimore, Huhn, Curran, Mathos, Shank, Rothgery, Joseph, Lett Heany, Koerber.
Second Row: Assistant Coach Ping, Manager Potter, Becker, Bermingham, Jaber, Kuehn, Rautenberg, Guyette, Ohlrich, Glaver, Andrews, Coach Baker

Fondy, like Napoleon, met her Waterloo. West Green Bay, Appleton, Sheboygan, and Oshkosh defeated us in hard fought battles of mud and courage.

The season ended with no serious injuries, although Dana, Heany Ricklefts, and Rautenberg received leg injuries which prevented them from rendering their full support to the battle. Guyette, O'Connor, Ohlrich, and Jaber received shoulder injuries which, naturally, prevented them from finishing out their program of football activity to its fullest extent.

We can, however, justly consider the season a good one, because of the teamwork, good fellowship, and loyalty that was developed and maintained between team mates, opponents, and school.

MANITOWOC, BEWARE!

HOWIE FARREY — "All Conference" and boy, what a fighter! He just wouldn't be moved — not even by the most. He pushed through interferences, over a half at the line, bringing down the runner time after time. We feel that he can rank with the highest on Fond's football roll of honor.

RALPH "BEN" FARMER was one of the finest defensive ends yet to play on Fondy's eleven. His aggressive attitude toward opposing ball-carriers lost many a yard for the opponents. Graduation, we are sorry to say, is taking him from us. So long, Ben!

JIM HEANY in his quiet and proficient manner, broke up all plays in his near vicinity. He has a great deal of credit due him for his outstanding work in the line. This was his second and last year of high school football.

BUCK DANA, two years' dedicated points of All Conference tackle, returned this year as player-coach in the back. His strength on defense and determination on offense. Buck was the mainstay in our forward wall of this year. The only thing we can possibly get replace him is an army tank.

SHAFKY JAMER, our watch-charm guard, was handicapped in an early game by a severe shoulder injury, and was therefore prevented from rendering a good account of himself this year. We can, however, remember previous years of outstanding work. We're losing him — So long, Shaffy!

BOB MENGE was an important stone in our forward wall of this year. Weighing over two hundred pounds, and having the tenacity of a bulldog, he was well capable of handling anything that got in his way. Good-bye, Bob!

RAY OHLRICH was in his top form this year. He was Fondy's triple threat of this season. His short bullet-like passes, quick kicks, and lighting-like runs made him one of the key men of the Red and White this year. It's going to take a pair of broad shoulders to replace him.

CHUCK SHANK sure did a Trojan's share of the work this year. His keen defensive ability and his hard tackling made him highly respected by conference players with whom he came in contact. We are very sorry to loose him through graduation and wish him loads of luck.

RAY RICKLETS, who was the brains behind this year's team, sure knew his signals. His generalship had our worthy opponents guessing most of the time. His ability to diagnose plays, coming in his direction, and his extreme aptness to upset them made the opposing team think twice before trying to get by "Rick".

FREDDY LITT was a concentrated load of resourceful dynamite this year, (a good number of our opponents learned that, to their sorrow). His headlong drives and smashing blocks paved the way for many a gain. We're going to miss him when football season comes around again.

LEE SCHILLER made our opponents look up and take notice with his cagey off-tackle drives and end runs. His flying feet had that elusive quality that makes up a good ball-carrier. That quality together with plenty of fight made him an important factor of our attack this year.

BOB (CURLY) ROTHGERY was Fondy's passing ace this year. Can anyone possibly forget that East Green Bay game? Bob's uncanny accuracy combined with his distance made him the dark horse of the season's gridgers.

HOWIE RICE was the hardest tackler of them all. He tackles so low that he can untie your shoe strings with his teeth! His tall and sturdy form belies his ability to hook passes as well as he tackles. He's coming back to us, and we surely need him.

HARRY HUHNS is one of the most promising players yet to make the squad. He played in almost every game with the ease and coolness of a veteran. He should be a mainstay in next year's line as he is coming back to us.

DON CURRAN made a good job of his required work at tackle. Immovable on defense and reliable on offense, he should be among the best of next year's "gridders".

SPARKY RAUTENBERG, the shiftiest back on Fondy's team surely gave the conference some bad headaches. His broken field running and his combined speed made him exceedingly dangerous to conference title contenders. The "33" season ought to put "Sparky" right on top.

DICK MARTINEWINE got the toughest jobs of the season. His hard driving charges forced many a hole in the opposing line, and made way for him to bring down the opponent's "backs" with clock-like precision. We aren't losing him this year and are we glad! See you next year, Dick!

BON KUFHN played his second and last season for us this year, and should receive a great deal of credit for his fine work as line man. His cool defense and keen offense made him one of the most dependable players ever to don the Red and White.

COACH FRUTH

After a long hard struggle on the part of the coach and team, E. D. Fruth has completed another year of basketball. He has been coaching in Fond du Lac for the past thirteen years with splendid records as proof of his ability.

Under Fruth's direction the teams have won three Fox River Valley championships; have been placed first, five times in district tournaments; second place, once; third place, twice; and fourth place, once. In Ripon invitation tournaments, Fondy has won first place and one second, but conference rules no longer allow the teams to play in district and invitational tournaments.

With Fruth as coach, the boys are not only well trained in sports but in sportsmanship. He has shown them that co-operation is all-essential with the spirit of fight as the backing.

Through his efforts a spirit of determination has been displayed, a fact which showed the team had not been discouraged in previous lost games. With a trainer in the art of basketball playing as well as in the art of determination, of fight, and of co-operation and with most of the fellows with us, next year, we shall surely find Fondy in the lead.

BASKETBALL '32 --- '33

Fondy's basketball team was put to a test that no other Fondy team has experienced in a number of years. In the early season games, the team lost several overtime games and a few others by a one or two point margin. This would cause the morale of most teams to be at a low ebb, but not Fond du Lac's team. The outstanding feature of the team this last season was the comeback spirit for each game and the fight to win each game, as if the championship itself were involved. Boys that have that spirit will never quit in any task they start.

Lady Luck seemed to have forgotten the Fruthmen entirely. It is safe to say, however, that with a little help from that aforementioned fickle lady, Fondy's eagles could have easily held their own with the best in the Fox Valley conference. Shots that hung balanced on the rim but failed to drop seemed to be the chief trouble. The team's willingness to work and their unforgettable courage remained unchallenged.

Practically all of the games were close races of two sturdy teams pitted against each other. But, each time as victory seemed within our grasp, the fates of sport decreed against us. The game with our chief rival, Oshkosh, was one of the closest in the history of the Fruthmen quintet.

Next year's squad should undoubtedly be one of the best this high school has ever seen. With seven lettermen returning and a highly polished class of candidates for open positions on the squad, Fondy should place among the best in the conference next year. Perhaps we may hope to place another trophy on the library's shelves.

Good ol' rough and ready "CAP" SIEBAUER was always in the thick of the game. His ruggedness and spirit made him a fine teammate. "Cap's" place at guard will be hard to fill next year.

HARRY MATHOS' dead eye made him a feared man throughout the conference. With height and plenty of speed, Harry should be a real star for next year's five.

"SNAPPER" WEST was one of the fastest men on the floor. His ability to drop in short shots will go a long way in building next year's team. Good luck, "Snap"!

The curtain is falling on JAKE GORES' splendid playing at guard for dear old Fondy. His size and his ability to get rebounds made him a real star throughout the conference. Jake will be a real loss to next year's defense.

WILLIE MANIS was a sure "spark plug" to his team. His dead eye kept Fondy in the thick of the game and earned a place well up in conference scoring. A good defensive man with plenty of speed should make Willie an all conference men in his next two years.

The close of the basketball season found BOB GUETTE with another stripe on his white sweater. Always being in the thick of the game, and inspiring his teammates on, earned Bob the utmost praise. Guyette will be counted on for next year's team.

Tall and rangy FRED BUSBY was a great asset to the team at center. A hard worker with plenty of defensive ability, he was an outstanding center. Fred will be counted on for next year's center. Good luck, Freddy!

"BLONDY" SCHMIDT was a real whirlwind of energy, despite his chunkiness. His ability to score and to defend will make Schmidt a feared man next year. Good luck, Blondy!

BOBBY MULLEN, brilliant little forward, did more than his share for his size. Always dependable for some timely lay-up, rebound and for a needed shot, Bobby was a real star. See you next year, "Mul"!

The loss of RAY RICKLEFS at mid-year left a large hole in Blondy's defense. Combined with speed and coolness, Ray was one of the outstanding guards in the conference. Ricklefs will be missed on next year's five.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

The girls' athletic season proved victorious for the seniors and juniors. In the fall the seniors, after a close battle with the sophomores, won the soccer tournament. The senior line-up was: M. Cale, J. Tack, M. DuFrane, H. Menzel, F. Kindness, P. McCoskey, G. Weeks, J. Erhlich, M. Hughes, E. Holman, and C. Treleven (Captain).

Immediately after the soccer season basketball practice began. The sophomores and juniors showed a great playing and proved to have good material, but they could not stand the power of seniors who won both tournaments played before and after mid-year graduation. The senior line-up before mid-year graduation was: M. Menzel, M. Cale, C. Treleven, F. Kindness, M. Schmidley, and J. Tack (Captain). Subs were V. Bassett, M. DuFrane, and M. Hughes. The team lost two players, V. Bassett and M. Schmidley, at mid-year graduation; consequently the line-up after graduation had a few minor changes. C. Sable took the place of H. Menzel who became a sub with M. Finnerty, and M. DuFrane filled the vacant place of M. Schmidley.

A volley-ball tournament was held in the spring. The juniors won from both the sophomores and seniors after several fast and exciting games. The junior line-up was: B. Sheridan (Captain), C. Ristau, R. Schmidley, D. Schwebke, P. Crooks, E. Kaufman, V. Cochrane, T. Ekert, R. Dunn, and A. Sperbeck.

SPRING ATHLETICS

When the construction of the new athletic field became known, a general cry for the return of track was heard. Although the entire track will not be completed, there will be a sprint lane of about 150 yards for the boys to show their speed. A new pit has been constructed for the high and broad jump.

Some of the most promising candidates who answered the call for track are:

Harold Rautenberg	Ted Brown
Lucian Siebauer	Heath Marston
Clifford VanFimeren	Charles Andrews
Edward Terrill	Norman Becker
Donald Curran	Willie Manis
Maurice West	Bud Helz

Bob Kuehn

Baseball went over with a bang when a pre-season petition signed by seventy-five boys was presented to Coach Baker for the continuation of our national pastime

Some of the candidates reporting for practice are:

Ralph Farmer	Jake Gores
Willie Manis	Dick Faris
Bob Mullen	Al Bond
J. Alden Willis	Howard Tebo
Harold Rautenberg	Howard Farrey
George Rottman	Lee Schiller
Bud Potter	Frank Spannebauer

Hercules: What ho! A few words I pray!
Listen to what I have to say.
I've heard that you're the guy
From whom power I can buy.

David: I don't see what I could do
To aid a man as strong as you.
Why, that build of yours, O Hercules,
Makes all men shiver in the knees.

Hercules: Here's the whole thing in a shell.
With the stronger sex I do just swell.
I can frighten them with ease
And make them shiver when'er I please
But the women folks, you see,
Always try and bully me.

Know just what to do
To make the gals
Leave their pals
And come to you.
What do you do?

David: Try there's nothing to it.
You too can do it.
One can't use strength and words;
One must stick to pretty words.
That makes 'em fall.
Just look at all
The gals I got.

I'll bide with her here.
You've come from the centre
Of God's Universe, here.
Cleo: My messenger gave call
And I wanted to see,
Being fairest of all,
If I was likened of me.

Mary: I fell for a guy
By name of Heinie,
But often I sigh
Cause he's too thin.
Mary: In cases like that
I'm left sort of flat.
Your secrets I want
Your life I will haunt.
Cleo: My dear innocent girl
My secrets are mine.
Now run along home
And get your own line.

Who Takes A Walk

Q. Now, the very first word, wasn't it, "Heavy"? Wasn't it more than just a little? He was a man, for his food. (Nero) I think he was fine if not, but I don't know that was what he was. (Nero) I think he was in a sense, he was heavy. Well, he was of that sort. I would that he was a man of some two hundred pounds. But that's all the view of our school. Whether in dreams or in reality it made little difference, as to pity the floors that he walked on. If Nero came from Heaven, we would be not have pity. (Nero) I think and if he came from the Devil, I think he's probably still in the Devil's club.

He hadn't been able to overcome by an avalanche of lies and threats the fear that had been born in him because he had set fire to Rome, and when he awoke he was completely bewildered as to the whereabouts of his would-be murderers.

Completely flabbergasted, he lifted himself up and looked around. Although he was also curious and he wanted to know what was going on, he was not the type who would have been the first to jump in. At first he thought it was an accident, but he soon saw that it was not. A loud voice came from the crowd and he saw that it was the same man who was helping the blind man. Two young boys came out of the crowd and were talking to him. Now that he was alone, he was a bit nervous. It was only a few minutes, but it was only a few minutes.

Somebody gave a speech at which everyone clapped, but Nero put thumbs down.

After the meeting was over Nero wandered into a class-room much to the surprise of the students who were sitting at their desks. He knew they were all looking at him with a kind of practical joke. He knew they were all looking at him with a kind of practical joke. The pencils, he saw, were all lying on the floor. He saw them at once in demonstration of exuberant joy.

While caving down their lockers with sick expressions of face, and so he said to a peer, "Pray may I ask of you, in the name of Jesus, will you please have those two fellows in yonder corner stand with me, woe-be-it-on-them."

Of, near, and the student, they're only a couple of lovesick locker lovers. These two happen to be Maury West and Virginia Roll, but there are hundreds just like them.

All afternoon Nero wandered in this curious world, and that night he even attended the Jack sh-Fordy 'basketball' game, but he was disappointed. The attendance wasn't so good and the spirit was terrible, and to Nero, the game was very boring. He saw the possibilities of an offensive to stick a knife in the opponents' hearts. However they only ran around and jumped after a ball.

Verd went to the Chemistry Lab looking for some hook-worms. No, said Marion Mills, they are not in here--but I'm sure you will find some on the floor of the gymnasium. He was very disappointed and down-hearted in our world as there were no exhibitions of Roman skill or grace, and absolutely no bloodshed. There was nothing left for him to do, so--labeled we have found out where he came from--he went back to the Devil and greeted the Politicians and Lawyers as they entered.
